“ I was honored to meet Kim years ago in Louisiana. From the first Moment I recognized what a lovely Person she was. Because of the distance to Germany were I live, I could only stay updated by her Facebook Posts. I was so Happy when I Heard that she got married. So sad to hear now that she had so less time to enjoy it. I keep her in my prayers.

“ I'm very heartbroken over the loss of my dear friend. Kimberly, you were an amazing person and I'm saddened at the thought that you are no longer here. I enjoyed trading stories with you. You loved to travel and I would have liked to have heard more of your adventures. I still have the souvenir you gave me from your trip to Central America. You were such a kind person, and as a fellow veteran, it was an honor to be your friend. I wish you fair winds and following seas Kim, and God bless. I miss you.

“ Kim, your light was extinguished too soon. My heart grieves for your family and friends and those that knew you well. I'm thankful our paths were able to briefly cross, as I'm better for it. I've made a contribution to Best Friends Animal Society in your memory. I think you would have enjoyed exploring the Sanctuary. Little Man and I will spend some time at Angel's Rest for you, as the animal spirits there always reassure us that loss of the physical form is just another phase in our immortal journeys. Thank you, Kim Possible.

“ Kim, it's been two weeks, and I still can't believe you're gone. I miss you bitterly. I find myself still talking to you most every day. I know you're still here in spirit, and I know you still hear me. I remember that from our talks. And you already know all of this, this is not so much for you, as for those of us you left behind. It comforts us to share our memories of you, and fill the emptiness you left, if only just a little...

Rob, it may comfort you to know that she loved you very much. Even though she had conflicting emotions about your relationship, she never stop loving you, and had hoped you could both work things out. I am so sorry for your loss.

Family was a very high priority to her, and she treasured the time she spent with her father in Dallas, her mom in Lafayette, and her recent stay with her grandmother while her PawPaw was in the hospital. She talked about one of her brothers perhaps staying in her apartment, but I don't recall his name. She loved her family, and would have done anything for them.

In my opinion, the best we can hope for is that we touch the lives around us and make the world a better place as we pass on through. Kim did this. Even when sad & lonely, she continued to touch the lives around her to spread joy & happiness. Even when she had nothing, she took cash advances on her credit card to prevent a friend's eviction.

They say the brightest stars burn out the fastest. Thank you, Kim, for sharing your light & life with us. Your memory & influence will be with me forever. Rest In Peace, my friend. I love you.

“ Kim,
You will remain indelible in our hearts and minds. Your effervescent self is and should be inspiring to all those who knew you. Your kind heart and soul touched us all. We believe your spirit goes on in a different form. With that being said you will live on forever. Forever loved, respected and honored;

“ Kim, thank you for your service and for being a wonderful friend. You will be missed. I still can't believe that you're no longer here with us physically. You were so excited, planning to have us come and see your new place soon. The last time you were here, we were watching Games of Thrones. I know you're in a better place now that your watch has ended; one day we will all see each other again. I know you love to travel and JK Rowling was one of your favorite author, so here is a quote I read and thought of you "To the well-organized mind, death is but the next great adventure." - J.K. Rowling.

“ I still can't believe you're gone, you were an amazing friend. You'd go out of your way to help anyone, even those you knew may not like you. Your light shined so bright, I can still see it. Your heart was so big, I hope you've found your peace now, I wish you would've met my daughter. I wonder if you're up there doing your dancing moves to Go Bestfriend and Sucker For Pain? I don't think I ever truly understood the pain you were in and I wish you could've stayed a little longer and found your peace here. I'll treasure the memories we have and I'll never forget how you helped through the hardest period in my life, you don't even know how much you helped me. There's so many should've, would've, could've's, but I'll reminisce with you in private, some of our memories aren't ones to share. They're too special to me. I love you and I'll miss you.

“ I will always treasure the moments spent with you. Especially these last few months where we've grown even more close. You were such a bright light on this earth and our recent talks have inspired me in ways I never would have imagined. Thanks for being a blessing in my life and being so smart and sharing your knowledge with me. Thanks for letting me hold you and you hold me through the tears we shared and thanks for all the laughs we had wondering if we were robots or video games being played it's an honor to have shared time and space with you. Fly with the angels my beautiful friend

“ Kimberly....I only got to meet you 1 time of any consequence. I was newly pregnant and your mother and brother, Ben came to Houston to visit me. We went to Astroworld and had a really great time! When we got back to my house, you wanted to do some science experiments with things in my bathroom. Boy could you do a science experiment, lol. I got to know you and Ben and your Mom and I had a great visit! You will be missed by all of your Guillory Family relatives. You were a person to be reckoned with even at a young age. But you were a JOY!
Leslie Ann, Ben...I have no words. I love you, I wish we could see more of each other. Mom and I will be there tomorrow. Only to lift you up and pray with you. This hurt is the worst. God bless you and keep you in this horrible time and know HE loves you more than you will ever know! I love you! Angie Guillory
