“ Mr. Walton and Mrs. Gloria were neighbors for 13 years and friends for 45. Like 2nd grandparents to my kids. I certainly will miss them and have missed Mrs. Gloria these last 20 years. I know there was a celebration when Mr. Walton arrived as she has waited so long for him.

“ How do you say Goodbye to somebody who made you, who raised you, taught you, dissaplined you, loved you.

Dad, it's not easy letting you go and learning how to live without you, you taking care of me when I was diagnosed with the cancer. You and I sat while I cried and told you, "Dad it's not suppose to be this way, I'm suppose to take care of you, not you take care of me", You calmly said we would do what we had to do. When I was sick from the chemo, you gave me the shots I needed to keep my blood counts up. You never complained thru the year and half of treatments and surgeries.

Dad, you took care of me and when the time came for me to take care of you, I pray I made you comfortable.

I promised Mom before she left us, I would take care of you, I hope I made her proud and I know I did my best.

Dad, I pray you and Mom are happy being home with Jesus and loving your heavenly family who were waiting for you.

I pray for heavenly guidance to learn to live without you in my life. I know all your grandchildren will miss you and especially your stories of life in the "Olden Days" and your steady loving guidance.

I love you Dad forever and a day until we see you and Mom. I pray I can make you proud and hope to be at least half the caring person you were.

I can only imagine how beautiful your existence is now being in a place where pain does not exist but only love.

How do I say Goodbye?

Your loving daughter, Peggy

“ Saddened to learn of Mr. Savoie's passing. Mr. Walton, and his late wife Gloria, were great friends and neighbors to our family, there on Oak Street. A great friend to our family in general, and especially our parents.

He was just a good person, with a "sly" wit and smile. Always willing to help out as he could....fantastic neighbors like Mr. and Mrs. Walton are truly rare...our family misses them very much.

Rest in peace, Mr. Walton ....
